

Coming from a climbing background, he naturally gravitates toward projects in the mountains. He is currently open to collaborations and expedition-based work as a camera operator or filmmaker.Nikolai is a filmmaker and photographer focused on climbing, nature, and outdoor environments. His work centers around real moments: people, movement, and the atmosphere of remote places.

Nikolai is always interested in joining climbing and expedition projects, both behind the camera and as part of the team